MARINE

The cruiser Saint Louis from the Coast arrived yesterday as she was expected to do by the wireless people and much to the surprise of the Naval authorities and the officers of the battleships who expected to get away from Honolulu before the boat got here. The Saint Louis was reported by the Maine yesterday morning when one hundred miles from Honolulu. This was at ten o'clock in the morning and she reported that she would be here by seven o'clock. It was reported by the Kahuku station on Tuesday night that the Saint Louis would be here Friday afternoon at four o'clock. When this report was received by the Naval Station officials they were very much in doubt as to the authenticity as there had been no news of the vessel having left the Coast for Honolulu and from despatches which had been received regarding her and the trip to Kaula it was thought that she had not yet left the Coast.

The Saint Louis was met by the steamer Mauna Kea which with her excursion party aboard was off Diamond Head when the cruiser arrived off that place. Jack Atkinson who was conducting the Governor's party had a friend aboard the cruiser, Ensign Cooley, whom he thought would like the trip and so he wirelessed for permission for the young man to be transferred to the Mauna Kea at sea. This was done and the cruiser came on and anchored off the Quarantine Station and the passenger boat continued on her way to Hilo.

The Saint Louis will come into the harbor early this morning and begin coaling and taking water and stores immediately. She is to be ready to go to Kaula with the Secretary of the Interior and the Governor and party on Friday next and will return to this port and depart directly for the Golden Gate.

ALEXANDER TO GUAM.

The officers of the battleships do not expect the collier Alexander to put in here but say that she will meet them at Guam and that they will take coal from her there. She is so slow that she would have very hard work to keep up with the battleships on the run South and so she has gone direct with her fuel. It is possible that she will return this way after she has filled the bunkers of the Maine and Alabama.

AUXILIARIES COMING.

VALLEJO, June 9.—Orders were issued on Mare Island today for all of the auxiliary vessels of the Atlantic fleet now at the yard to leave for the lower bay on or before next Saturday, so that they can sail for the Orient on Monday, the 15th inst.

The Culgoa will drop down the bay tomorrow. It is expected that the Glacier will be ready to sail by Friday. The Arctusa and Panther will also sail during the next day or so.

The British steamer Buerania arrived at the Navy wharf yesterday morning after a trip of sixty-four days from Newport News with 4850 tons of coal for the Navy Department. Captain H. Tilley is in command.

GUEST OF HONOR AT COMMERCIAL CLUB

George W. Smith alluded in introducing him. The spacious dining room of the club was more than filled, and Secretary Garfield had a most attentive and appreciative audience. Perhaps nothing in the speech was more heartily applauded than his statement that it was constructive and not destructive criticism that was useful. The applause was hearty, too, when he spoke in praise of the three men who have held the office of Governor of this Territory.

MR. GARFIELD'S SPEECH.

Mr. Garfield's address was not a long one, but it was a most satisfactory one to those who heard it. He said:

"It is true that the Secretary of the Interior comes close to the people of the Territories, and I want to come closer still. My purpose in coming here is to get first hand information regarding the political, social, industrial and economic conditions which prevail here. While the Interior Department is not the department which has charge of all matters in connection with the Territory, it is the one to which communications on all subjects come, and which refers these to the various departments and bureaus having charge of the particular matters. Thus it knows more completely than any other what matters are of concern in the Territory. It is the medium of exchange for all things Hawaiian."

FIRST HAND INFORMATION.

"Therefore I want to get as much information regarding this Territory as it is possible to do."

"It is gratifying to find that you are harmonious; that there is here co-operation and co-ordination. If that were not so, it would probably result in the creation of confusion when efforts are made to present matters at Washington. But with your Chamber of Commerce and your Merchants' Association, and this organization, each having its own line of work, you can get the most possible from combined effort."

"During these first few quiet days of my stay here, I have seen very much that has interested me. I have learned much of your schools and racial problems and industrial questions. I go now to make a tour, not for inspection, for time will not be given for that, but for a tour of investigation of the industrial conditions on the other Islands."

MEETS ALL CLASSES.

"In trying to get at conditions here I am meeting all classes of your people. I am meeting the men of large enterprises, and as well those who are striving to work out their success by their own efforts. No one set of men can continue in control of the industrial affairs of a country without trouble. I do not mean that this is any justification for attacks on big men, on successful men. In the struggle for success, those who succeed will have much and those who fail will have little. But the more men have, the more responsibility they have. We have progressed so far in the development of our civilization and social relations that we do not recognize that property and wealth is merely for the benefit of the man who owns it. In its use the public have an interest. The antagonism that there used to be has in large measure changed to co-operation. Each side has found that it can learn much from the other. There is common ground where they can both meet. There is not an impassable barrier as it used to be thought there was, nor an unbridgeable chasm. That common ground is found in just such organizations as this. Here men of widely different ambitions meet."

THINGS AS THEY ARE.

"I want to get hold of things as they are. I do not want to see them in any rosy hue, but in the true light of your own sunshine—liquid or otherwise. You have certain phases here of race and labor problems, I have read much of Hawaii before I came here, but I find that I knew little. To know any country or people, one has to come in touch with things as they are, and with the men who do. Your governors have all been men of ability, devoting their efforts to the good of the Territory. It has been my good fortune to know them all three, and I know that they have each tried to present matters at Washington in the right light. But in spite of their efforts, I find you have been misjudged. There is always two sides to every proposition. It is double edged and dangerous except to those who know and desire to use for the good of the community. Your Governors may not always have satisfied either you or the administration at Washington. But there has never been a question of the integrity of any of them."

TO LEARN, NOT TO TEACH.

"I am here to learn and not to teach. I am not here to listen to mere petty complaints. I am not here to listen to mere destructive criticism. Constructive criticism is the useful and valuable thing. That's the kind I want to hear. If your executive officers appoint incapable men we want to know it. But we don't want mere personal attacks on appointees merely because somebody doesn't like them."

MANAGEMENT PALACE HOTEL COMPANY

I speak of this not because any such things have occurred here, but because they have occurred in other Territories. We are trying to build up a capable federal executive. As the head of a bureau in the Department of Commerce and Labor, and at times its acting head, I have had something to do with appointments. From my study of the records of the Interior Department, whenever I find an application for an appointment supported by a very large number of signatures, I am not suspicious but curious. I am apt to find on file letters from some of those signing the application to the effect that though they have signed the application they do not want any attention paid to their signature. That isn't fair to the appointing officer. What we want to give you is capable men; not to send you men who come with preconceived ideas to create confusion and discord. "Hawaii is not only in name a part of the United States but we want you to feel that whatever the federal government can do for any Territory it can do for you and wants to do it for you. We want you to have a fair deal in all appropriations made to be spent in the Territories. We want you to feel that you can call on Uncle Sam with just as much right as the Buckeye State, and the Buckeye State has learned how to call on Uncle Sam. It has called on him very importantly lately."

CONDITIONS HAVE CHANGED.

"Your questions of race, of labor, and of land, shall have my consideration. I have this morning listened to several delegations on various phases of these questions. One delegation urged that the federal land laws should be extended to this Territory. I asked them if they had given much consideration to the results from the federal land laws? While undoubtedly those laws have done much good a great deal of evil has followed from them, and as I said, I could not consent to the extension of those laws to these islands until they were very materially amended."

"Your labor problems are not satisfactory. I have heard very severe criticisms of them. Some of you have been giving very serious consideration to your labor problems. But I fear that some of you have not been giving very serious consideration to the labor problems on the mainland. You have not been considering your own problems from the federal viewpoint. Now that we have acquired new and such important relations in the far east, conditions have changed, and what was all right in the past may not be all right now or in the future. "In conclusion I want to say that instead of being a duty, it has been a pleasure to address you, and to have had the honor to meet so many people who have had one end in view, and that end is the material development of your territory. Your Governor and Delegate have impressed the executive in Washington with their efforts for your future, and in passing I wish to say that your Delegate has made for himself in Washington a position that is not only worthy of the confidence that you have placed in him, but also a position that is honorable and enviable."

"I want you all to feel that I am anxious to have you cooperate with me in everything that is of interest to the Territory, and after I have studied your needs will ask Congress to give you what you need, through the medium of wise legislation. "If I do not get one hour's sleep during the rest of my trip, I will feel that I have been repaid for my visit. Gentlemen, I thank you."

CHEERS FOR GARFIELD.

Secretary Garfield was applauded frequently during the course of his address, and at its conclusion there was most enthusiastic applause. When it had subsided Captain Penhallow arose and led in three cheers for the Secretary, which were given with an enthusiasm and a volume not often known in these islands.

Those at the President's table were: G. W. Smith, James R. Garfield, H. P. Baldwin, Captain Harbor, Captain Veeder, W. R. Farrington, Justice Hall, Captain Ross, H. E. Cooper and Governor Fear. Others present were: Collector Stackable, M. Green, Robert Lewers, R. A. Jordan, J. L. McLean, John Waterhouse, John Guild, G. R. Carter, J. A. McCandless, F. J. Lowrey, Albert Waterhouse, Marston Campbell, W. A. Love, Cushman Carter, Albert F. Afong, J. F. Morgan, Dr. Cofer, U. S. Marshal Hendry, British Consul Forster, Capt. Lydecker, Thos. Wall, F. L. FLEET ENTERTAINMENT

Reports of the various committees were received at the meeting of the Ways and Means Committee of the Fleet held yesterday morning in the offices of the First National Bank. Chairman Peck reported that $9600 had been collected with the hope of getting some more. C. M. Cooke said that he was awaiting the return of Mr. Potenhauer from Kaula before he could make a definite report from the Pacific Mail and the American-Hawaiian liners. Hona Quon, manager of Sing Chong Co., said that he had subscriptions amounting to $500 with the expectation of getting another $500, and A. W. T. Bottomley reported $275 subscribed with hopes of getting some more. Chairman Peck in estimating the amounts gave out the following amounts for publication: $9600 collected, $3875 subscribed, $4500 additional amount in sight, making a total of $18,075.

Bottomley reported that Y. Alani had resigned as a member of the Ways and Means Committee on account of illness. His resignation was accepted by the committee and D. Yonekura, president of the Japanese Merchants' Association, was substituted in his place. S. Sheba of the Hawaii Shingo was added to the committee.

Before adjournment the Chair was authorized to inform the Executive Committee that the Ways and Means Committee was endeavoring to raise $18,000 as a maximum amount.

PRIORY TEACHER DIES.

Mrs. Geo. C. Ross died last evening at Honolulu plantation. Mrs. Ross has been an invalid for several months and her death has been expected for several days. Mrs. Ross was the wife of Geo. C. Ross, the bookkeeper at the plantation, and is well known in this city where for several years before her marriage she taught school at the Priory. She leaves a family of four small children. The funeral arrangements will probably be in charge of H. H. Williams, and notice of the funeral will be given later.
